

CUSTOM HP / MM PROGRAM AGREEMENT

Goal: To reach and maintain heightened levels of clarity, energy, courage, productivity and influence as I pursue my goals and full potential.

-EnthusiastiClay's Custom High Performance Coaching

By Enrolling into this Customized High Performance Program, I agree to the following:

I am committed to improving my life and will participate fully in all individual sessions, masterminds, and any other meeting in which I attend.

I am registering for a previously discussed term, normally at least 6 months (or other customized length of time) as outlined in detailed conversations and emails with my EnthusiastiClay.

I will meet with my EnthusiastiClay (mastermind group, group calls, or other teams as agreed upon) at the scheduled times, and do my best to be on time. I understand that if I have to miss a session, and don't provide at least 48 hours notice, it will be a missed session and not expect a makeup or rescheduled session.

I understand this program is about improving my present life and reaching new levels of performance and potential. I understand this level of personal development is not therapy, not about rehashing my past over and over, and not about professional, legal, medical, psychological, or financial advice. I understand the coaching is focused on what I can do now, and in the future to experience more energy, success, and fulfillment in life.

I understand and agree that my results in my life are up to me and that by law no one can guarantee my results in life or business, only my satisfaction, so, EnthusiastiClay cannot be held liable under any circumstances for my results or actions. I understand my EnthusiastiClay does, however, guarantee my satisfaction with the first session and that if I am not satisfied with session one, I can ask for a refund. I also understand I can stop the coaching sessions at any point I wish and I will no longer be billed for future sessions, but that I cannot be reimbursed for previous sessions after the start of our second session.

I understand that at the end of our agreed upon working period, I will have the option of continuing my momentum and mastery. I can schedule to continue, or alter the coaching program at that time.
